Gardening Tip

by Phil Siviour

Coffin Bay Gardening Service

You need to act now to control winter grass in your lawn. Control the weeds before they start to grow by using a pre-emergence weedicide. The timing is critical – they must be applied before the autumn rains, which will stimulate the dormant seeds.

A new organic product is now available to control slugs and snails. Keep your seedlings and plants protected from hungry creatures by using OCP eco-shield organic snail and slug killer, available from your gardening centre. Not only do the pellets kill the snails, they also breakdown into nutrients for the soil.

Your fruit trees need fertilising now with a balanced fertiliser containing nitrogen, phosphorus and potash. Doing this now should improve flowering and fruit setting in spring.

ZERO WASTE / RECYCLING

A few lines to inspire people to tread lightly on this beautiful planet

by Marianne Tremp

Some of these plastics can go in the recycling bin but mostly not. It is best to avoid buying food packaged in PVC.

Flexible or rigid plastic used for plumbing pipes, clear cordial and juice bottles, bubble wrap, children's toys and play mats, tablecloths, and vinyl flooring

Containers for cordial and juice, items can be recycled through your recycling bin.

Toys, mats and flooring cannot be recycled in the recycling bin.

Bubble wrap and plastic packaging can be recycled in the REDcycle bins, just cut it all in approximately A3 sized bits.

Production is changing all the time, industry is using more and more environmentally friendly materials, and as we get more aware of what not to buy, less of it will be produced. It's up to us as the consumers in the end 🐸

SA Ambulance Service ambulance volunteers needed at Coffin Bay

The SA Ambulance Service (SAAS) Coffin Bay team is looking for new volunteers to answer the call and join their team.

All volunteers undertake ambulance training and complete a nationally accredited training course that gives participants the skills and confidence to take control in an emergency and save the lives of others.

People from all walks of life can become a volunteer; from those who are employed, to retired individuals. Volunteers are placed on an on-call roster and can still undertake their normal day-to-day activities, unless they are paged to respond to a call out.

Volunteering with SAAS is a great way to help yourself too – you'll acquire a variety of life skills as well as making new friendships in the local community.

There's no better time to take control in an emergency, to help save the lives of others.

Now some exciting news from your Coffin Bay crew. We've taken delivery of a brand-new ambulance that's kitted out with all the state-of-the-art gear used by ambulance officer and paramedic teams all over SA.

We've undertaken driver training in our new ambulance and been practicing our cardiac arrest protocol using our new Corpuls – a combined ECG monitor and defibrillator. Often, working out how to get a patient to hospital safely is just as big a part of the call out as treating their illness or injury. So, we've also been working through access and egress issues for patients in remote locations.

To find out more about becoming a Coffin Bay ambulance volunteer or if you wish to express your interest, please call Regional Team Leader, Chris Morgan on 0428 822 031 or go to <https://saasvolunteer.sa.gov.au/>.

Flu vaccinations 2022

This coming flu season experts are expecting a re-emergence of influenza cases. Australia has experienced 2 years of very low circulating influenza virus, so natural boosting of immunity has not occurred, possibly individuals did not seek vaccination since there was "no flu around", and therefore immunity has likely waned.

Very young children, especially those under 3 years of age, have not likely experienced a first-time exposure to influenza virus so are at increased risk of contracting influenza.

We expect to be kicking off influenza vaccinations from early April.

Please take this next step in protecting yourself, your family and our community during the ongoing Covid-19 pandemic.

Influenza vaccine will be available for all people aged 6 months and older.

We are not yet taking bookings, but will notify the community via Facebook when bookings open.

We look forward to seeing you all for another round of vaccinations!
